2024 WIMBLEDON
DAY 1 MEN'S NOTES
Monday 1 July
1st Round – Top Half

Featured matches

On court today…

- Carlos Alcaraz begins the proceedings on Centre Court this afternoon, with the defending champion taking on Estonian qualifier Mark Lajal. Having won his 2nd major title here last year, Alcaraz added to his Grand Slam title tally at Roland Garros last month, and should he retain his title here this fortnight he will become the 4th man in the Open Era to win 4 Grand Slam titles aged 21 or under. Lajal, who is exactly one week younger than Alcaraz, is making his Grand Slam debut today and is bidding to become the 3rd man in history to defeat the defending champion in the 1st round at Wimbledon. He would also become the 2nd Estonian player in history to reach the men's singles 2nd round here.

- Jannik Sinner has enjoyed a successful start to his reign as world No. 1, with the Italian having won the title at Halle 2 weeks ago. While he is guaranteed to remain as the top player in the world regardless of his result at Wimbledon, he will be determined to claim a 2nd major title here – should he do so, he will become just the 2nd Italian player to win multiple Grand Slam singles titles after 2-time major winner Nicola Pietrangeli. Sinner's opponent today is Germany's Yannick Hanfmann – and the world No. 110 will hope for a better showing than in the pair's only previous meeting. Hanfmann managed to win just 5 games when the pair met in the 1st round at the 2023 US Open.

- On No. 2 Court, Stan Wawrinka begins his latest quest to complete the career Grand Slam with a match-up against British wild card Charles Broom. At 39 years old, Wawrinka is the oldest man to begin the men's singles draw here this year – and a victory today would see him become just the 10th man in the Open Era to win a Wimbledon singles match aged 39 or older. Broom, meanwhile, is aiming to continue the momentum from a successful grass court season which has seen him rise to a new career-high ranking and record his first 2 match-wins against Top 100 players.

- Australia's Alex Bolt has already enjoyed great success in London in recent days, and will hope for further success when he faces No. 8 seed Casper Ruud on No. 3 Court today. As an alternate into qualifying last week, Bolt recorded 2 straight-sets victories before recovering from 0-2 down to defeat Leandro Riedi in 5 sets to reach the main draw. He will be optimistic of recording a win against Ruud too – the 3-time Grand Slam finalist has won just 2 matches in 4 Wimbledon appearances.

He lost the only 5-set match he has contested at Wimbledon – in the quarterfinals in 2022, when he lost to Djokovic in 5 sets despite holding a 2-0 lead. He has a 6-7 win-loss record in 5-set matches overall.

- Sinner became the first Italian player to reach the singles world No. 1 ranking last month and plays here at the same ranking. By winning the title at Halle, he became the 8th man to win the title in his first event as world No. 1 since the ATP rankings were introduced in 1973. He is guaranteed to remain at No. 1 the week on Monday 15 July regardless of the outcome of this tournament.

- Sinner reached a career-high junior ranking of No. 133 and did not contest the boys' singles events at any of the Grand Slam tournaments. His best result as a junior was reaching the quarterfinals as a wild card at the Grade A Trofeo Bonfiglio event in Milan in 2018 (l. Naoki Tajima).
